CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY AIDS CAUSE

The world famous Ausable River Valley Canoe Race, considered one of the toughest tests of canoeism and stamina, will be run over a two-day course between Grayling, Mio — Oscoda beginning Saturday, October 6th.

Sponsored jointly by Grayling, Mio, Oscoda-Ausable and Consumers Power Company, the race will feature $5,000 in cash prizes plus trophies and medals for the winners.

First prize is $1,200 for the 240-mile downstream course which covers the Ausable River from its beginning near Grayling down to the mouth at Oscoda across huge backwaters created by six Consumers Power hydro-electric dams.

Top canoe teams from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and other midwestern states are planning to compete for the grand prize and the coveted trophy to add an international flavor.

Competition for pole positions will be keen, with early starters earning their positions in a Friday, October 5th "pole position" race at Grayling on Lake Margrethe.

Entries will be accepted until 9:00 a. m. Saturday, October 6th but all teams registering after the Friday race will be positioned in the order entries are received.

A 10:30 a. m. start at Grayling October 6th is expected to see the canoe race into Mio about 7:30 p. m. A full night's rest (with lodging provided by Mio Canoe Race Committee) will give the paddlers added zest for the 180 mile run Sunday at 7:30 a. m., with the finish in Oscoda at about 5:00 p. m.

All teams will be judged on a lap time basis with time adjustments made at Foote Dam, just 21 miles from the Oscoda finish. The standard 15-second interval starting procedure will be used at both the Grayling and Mio starts, according to Eric Post, Grayling director of the race.

Sable River Valley Canoe Race Committee. Post is one of seven members of the committee which is made up of Harry Curley and Robert Fulmer of Oscoda, Jim Hanson and Eldon Fodder of Grayling, and Don Jansen and Carroll Wert of Grayling. Rob Hayes, secretary of the Crawford County C. of C. also serves as Secretary of the General Committee.

Canoe Race rules remain basically the same as in previous years with the age limit minimum set at 15 years and the entries limited to men. Outboard motors will not be allowed and only six paddlers will be allowed. A number of time-saving "cuts" in the upper and extreme lower stretches of the river will be eliminated with officials positioned to insure equal opportunity for the unexperienced as well as the river-wise paddler. Any team finishing within two hours of the first place winner will be reimbursed their entry fee for each team, but commercial fees ($25.00 per canoe) will not be returned.

Any canoe not over Five Channels Dam by 5:00 p. m. Sunday will be declared out of the race and must leave the river at that point for safety sake, the committee has declared.

Grayling is planning the "biggest" pre-race celebration ever staged in the history of the contest, and Mio too is working on a town-wide celebration to entertain over-night spectators. Fireworks and a huge bonfire, bands and nationally known dignitaries will greet the canoeists when they arrive in Oscoda where the finish line and the start of the return race in Ausable. A carnival atmosphere will prevail with Harry Curley in charge of the Oscoda committee which will be announced later.

CAMP GRAYLING — With the traditional formalities and festivities of the week-end behind them, members of the Michigan Army National Guard, 46th Infantry Division, went back to the field early this week for the final days of their rigorous 1962 encampment.

Half of the base camp at Lake Margarette had a "ghost town" as two infantry battle groups, division artillery, a transportation battalion, signal battalion, and the division's headquarters units moved out early Monday for four-day tactical bivouacs.

Stated for field maneuvers during the final week were: Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 46th Division, and 46th Administrative Company of Lansing; 10th Signal Battalion of Ypsilanti; 1st Battalion, 208th Infantry, 219th Transportation Battalion with headquarters at Bay City and separate companies at Cheboygan, Cadillac, Manistec and Alpena; 1st Battle Group, 26th Infantry, of Grand Rapids, Ionia, Greenville, and Big Rapids; 1st Battle Group, 225th Infantry of Detroit, and the 46th Division Artillery units from Detroit, Lansing, Grand Lodge, Charlotte, Jackson, Albion, Kingsford, Ironwood, and Iron River.

For the first time in the encampment, the division artillery battalions will prepare equipment to fire their 105mm and 155 mm guns. Other scheduled training last week had denied the artillerymen use of the large Prickett Artillery Range northeast of Grayling.

Night firing missions will be included in the artillery's tactical maneuver. Infantrymen will be with the artillery units to fire their 4.2 mortars.

Combined arms training involving the infantry, armor, engineers, and transportation units will continue throughout the second week. Infantry platoon proficiency tests got under way on Monday and will continue through Thursday.

Units in the fall will return to the base camp Thursday. Friday all units will prepare equipment for the movement back to home stations on Saturday. "The eagle will fly" on Friday, too, as the nearly 8,000 Guardsmen draw their pay for the 15-day encampment.

Visitors to the 46th Division's encampment during the second week were to include Lieutenant General John K. Waters, Commander of the 46th Division, on Tuesday, and Colonel Owen W. Woodruff, Jr., and John F. Murray, of the Army's Judge Advocate General's School, Charlottesville, Va., on Wednesday.

At the Memorial Services Sunday morning Governor Swainson told the assembled Guardsmen they "can offer no greater tribute to the memory of the more than 6,000 members of the Michigan National Guard who lost their lives for the sake of freedom than to make sure that no man within our individual world is denied his freedom."

Carol will be crowned "Princess of the Pageant" during the colorful night water ceremony on the Annapolis River at Sportman's Park in Mio. Other Exposition features will be sawing and chopping contests, forestry and logging exhibits, a narrow gauge railroad and fireworks. The Exposition runs through Saturday, July 28.

Letters To The Editor

July 10, 1962
To all dedicated sportsmen, outdoorsmen and women, and all those who may be interested:
In the past I have been compelled to put my thoughts down on paper for many reasons, and in spite of considerable criticism and ridicule, have continued to do so whenever I have felt it justified the cause.
Today, after making a trip from Chase Bridge on the South Branch of the AuSable, to Smith Bridge, I came away sick to my stomach from the pollution and refuse people have deposited in and along the banks of this stream.
Here we have a stream, endowed with a periodic fish planting program, paid for by the state, and yet the stream is so polluted that it is not fit for the purpose of maintaining the wild state as nearly as possible. Comes along people who are involved in the exploiting of these advantages who have no interest in the long range result, and you have a stream full of beer cans, boxes, tires, bed springs, old trunks, and every other imaginable type of litter.
The South Branch of the AuSable has less than ten percent the amount of canoe and other traffic, as the Main Stream yet this stream is absolutely filthy, both from a scenic viewpoint and as a public thoroughfare.
I will take anyone, and I mean anyone who disputes this statement down that stream at no cost to them other than their time, and if they do not agree that this stream is a disgrace to the human race so far as the litter is concerned, I will be much mistaken.
I care not whether I draw the wrath of the canoe liveries involved, as they can not help but know of the deplorable conditions which exist.
The people of this area, and Roscommon in particular, as well as the other sportsmen who canoe, wade, or otherwise use this stream should be ashamed of the conditions for allowing such a condition to exist.
Signs go up. "This is the famous AuSable River, and the aforementioned portion of this stream has never undergone a clean-up campaign, nor is there any sign of any type of help from any canoe liveries, other than to cut off, or cut, any trees that fish pits which may hamper the passage in style of the canoeists to whom they owe their allegiance.
It is high time, and long gone ago, that someone with guts enough to speak up, spoke out.
Here it is! I personally, and most every outdoorsman I know, is thoroughly disgusted with the conditions outlined above.
If you doubt the depths to which this littering problem has sunk, take a trip and find out! It's a cinch the canoe liveries in Roscommon won't.
Just put in at Steklard Bridge and run through to Smith Bridge! It will surely disgust you, if you care at all for our great streams and the out of doors in general.
After viewing the carnage wrought on this stream, I sorry I am a member of the "Human Race."
Norman "Bud" Stephan

Watch Out For Children
Now that school is out once more and the streets are full of carefree children running around like wild puppies, it is best to ease up on the throttle.
The law recognizes the fact that children are not responsible for their acts in the broad sense that adults are. They dash out on a road without looking, despite the fact that their anxious parents have told them dozens of times to use caution. Caution and carefree youth have a difficult time of it together. That is why school zones have extra low speed limits usually rigidly enforced.
When school is out for the summer, the school zones are spread out everywhere that children care to roam. So if you see children playing on the road, slow up well in advance and give them a wide berth when you do pass.
The Travellers Insurance Company compiles an annual report on accident statistics at which they distribute 3,300,000 free copies. That's a sizeable printing job but it's little more than enough to top the number of killed and injured Americans for the year of 1961 it covers—3,084,600.
The most tragic of these accidents are those involving children who are killed or crippled before their life has hardly begun. To lose a little time on the chance of saving a little life are odds that any motorist would be foolish indeed to ignore.
No can be on the right end of the odds by just reducing speed, the number one cause of fatalities.

bers present: McWilliams, Gothro, Giegling, Hoffman. Members absent: McNamara.
City Attorney Charles Moore
present also City Auditor Clifford Peterson.
Citizens present: Paul Folsom,
Clarence LaMotte, Melvin Marshall and John Stephan.
Minutes of the last meeting
were approved on the motion by Gothro and supported by Gieg-ling. Yeas: McWilliams, Gothro, Giegling and Hoffman. Nays:
none. McNamara present.
Clarence LaMotte asked the Council to reconsider the order on the restriction on his juke box at the Drive-In. After some discussion the Council informed him that further investigation would be made and a report be made to him.
Paul Folsom asked the Council to consider leasing him the city owned property that lies north of the cemetery for a Miniature Golf Course. The Council informed that they would investigate the legality of such a lease and give him an answer at a later date.
Melvin Marshall appeared before the Council to ask their cooperation in controlling excess puses around the motel area. The Council informed him that they would investigate his complaint
and do what they could to control
it.
A discussion by the Council was held on the construction of Galen Street. It was decided that as soon as it is indicated that the need for a street is necessary the city will construct this street.
The maintenance contracts for the directional signs to be erected
by Uch & Sons, Harrison, Mich.,
for the City of Grayling were discussed. It was decided that these contracts should be re-written, the phrase "upon payment in advance" be stricken from the contract.
The written request and work
rules submitted by the City Employees to the Council were reviewed. Action was tabled pending a meeting of the City Manager and Attorney Charles Moore
with the Board of Education.
The 1962-63 Budget for the City of Grayling was again reviewed and after considerable discussion
by the Council a motion to accept the budget as presented was made by Giegling and supported by Hoffman.

lows:
Yeas: McWilliams, Gothro,
Giegling, Hoffman. Nays: None.
McNamara absent.
A motion by Gothro and supported by Hoffman that the millage for the coming year 1962 be set at 25 1/2 mills. This tax is spread on state equalized valuation at 16 mills.
Yeas: McWilliams, Gothro,
Giegling, Hoffman. Nays: None.
McNamara absent.
A discussion was held on the Sanitary Land Fill. The City Manager asked to keep the Land

Fill open 6 days a week, Monday through Saturday. He was given permission to do so.
A meeting was set for June 15
to meet with the Engineers to award the contract for the remodeling of the Disposal Plant.
Bruce Smith's request for sewer and water in his plot was discussed. The Council felt that before action could be taken a firm price on the cost should be had. Williams & Works Engineers will make the recommendations and estimates so that a contract bid can be had.
The subject of street lighting was again discussed. After a great deal of study and discussion, it was decided that McClellan and James Streets to the city limits should have street lights. Therefore a motion by Hoffman and supported by Gothro that the Consumers Power Company be instructed to install the following lights on these streets: Seven (7) 20,000 lumens fluorescent be placed on McClellan and eight (8) 20,000 lumens fluorescent be installed on James Street to south city limits.

follows: Yeas: McWilliams, Giegling and Hoffman. Nays:
